

$60,000,000 COKE MERGER IS REPORTED TO BE PRACTICALLY ASSURED.

INDEPENDENT INTERESTS WILL BE TAKEN OVER OCTOBER 1ST.

That Is the Announcement Made This Morning by the Pittsburg Dispatch, Apparently Authentic.

STORY OF FRICK REPEATED

Before Snow Files 40 Coke Towns
Will Be Owned by One Corporation.
Appraisement of the Plants Will Begin on Monday and Work Will Be Started on Final Details.

The Pittsburg Dispatch announces this morning that the Connellsville coke merger is assured and that the coke properties of most of the independent interests will be taken over by October 1st by a $60,000,000 corporation to be formed for that purpose.

"Positive orders have gone out," The Dispatch says, "from the representatives of the eastern financial interests who made an inspection of the independent coke properties in the Connellsville field this week to proceed at once with the appraisements on the properties to be included in the proposed $60,000,000 merger. This is taken as the final verdict of the underwriters who will finance the immense combination eating the seat of their approval on the project. It means the making of 50 new millionaires in the Connellsville field before October 1, next, for many of the settlements with the individual operators by the new syndicate's proposition giving them the privilege of calling for a cash settlement, or part cash and part stock."

"It also means that before the snow flies next winter 40 or more coke towns in the upper and lower Connellsville field will be owned by one corporation, plants, workmen's houses and all. The story of the formation of the I. C. Frick company more than a decade ago is to be repeated, in Fayette and Westmoreland counties."

"The appraisement will begin next Monday. The appraisers have virtually agreed on, and so satisfactory have the preliminaries been that it is said the underwriting interests have practically agreed that the figures finally submitted by these appraisers shall stand. The appraisement is expected to show a total actual valuation of between $50,000,000 and $70,000,000 in the properties to be taken over, owned now by between 75 and 80 individual companies."

"This appraisement task, with the accompanying checking up of the fixed assets listed in the options, is expected to be finished by June 20, which will give an abundant margin of time for underwriting the deal, the options being good until October 1, with a clause providing for a 60-day extension to December 1."

"However this extra margin of time will not be needed, according to present indications. Those who are closest to the projectors say the financing will have been completed, the properties taken over, all payments made and ready to operate the absorbed interests by October 1 at the latest."

"It is the boast of the promoters that the options obtained from the independent operators in the present merger are practically on-half what the same properties would have been quoted at during the boom of 1907. The operators have named 'hard-time prices' to use the expression of one of the projectors. Stories of ridiculously extravagant figures being asked by some of the larger companies operated are laughed at by men who have seen the list. It is said much of the coal will be secured at under $3,000 an acre."

"The physical condition of the plants will, of course, be considered in the appraisements, but the vastness of the coal lands has been largely determined, the only detail remaining being to verify the bare figures as to unmined fuel."

"There will be no announcement as to the financing until the combination is completed. The projectors recall the manner in which some big banking interests squeezed the promoters of Pittsburg coal and other local combinations when it came to raising the actual cash to perfect those deals. They maintain that there shall be no such manipulation in the present project."

"The theory that the independent interest are seeking joint control with the Steel Corporation in the Connellsville field as a measure of self-protection is accepted by many coal and coke men; while a story to the effect that railroad interests were seeking to tie up the independent coke tonnage of the region, in order to control the freight situation, found credence in banking and brokerage circles yesterday.

"It is known that, alarmed at the rate the coal tonnage in some territories adjacent to Pittsburgh had been decreasing in recent years, notably on lines between Pittsburg and Brownsville, because of the gradual falling off of the output of the mines, some of the Western Pennsylvania railroad interests have threatened recently to take steps to protect themselves in other nearby fields."

SUTTON THRASHED HUSBAND AND WIFE

Went on a Spree in Snyderstown But Secured Liberty By Taking a Ticket of Leave.

The population of Snyderstown will be decreased by one if W. T. Sutton, a one-legged man, keeps the agreement he has made before Justice of the Peace W. P. Clark. Sutton was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery preferred by W. S. Barkely. The offense is said to have been committed yesterday while Sutton was intoxicated.

According to the tales of the neighbors, Sutton some time ago prevailed upon Mrs. Barkely to leave her husband and the two went housekeeping in Snyderstown, where the injured husband later came to board.

Yesterday Sutton became intoxicated and decided he could lick the whole family and started on Barkely. He succeeded pretty well, and it is said also to have given Mrs. Barkely some wallops which hurt.

This morning Sutton, who had been arrested by Constable Joseph Crossland, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Clark and the trio agreed to settle matters. Sutton is to pay the costs and leave town, and in consideration of his agreement to this effect the information was withdrawn.

NEGRO CHARGED WITH PICKING POCKETS

Chief Rotter Says That He Has Evidence That Robert Wright Is a Bad Actor.

Robert Wright, a Uniontown negro, will be prosecuted by Chief of Police Rotter for picking pockets. Wright denies the charge but the Chief says he has evidence sufficient to convict the man. Wright was arrested by Officers George Francis and R. E. Stillwagon on a charge of disorderly conduct in Hetzel's restaurant. He is said to have refused to pay for a meal. Wright told Burgess Evans he had already paid one quarter and the man wanted another.

According to information furnished Chief of Police Rotter, Wright entered a barroom and attempted to rifle the pockets of an old man named Burns, living at South Connellsville. When two other colored men intervened, Wright is said to have become belligerent.

Wright was given 72 hours on a charge of being drunk and disorderly while Chief Rotter will make information against him as soon as he has secured the necessary evidence.

DAVIS BRINGS SUIT IN ALLEGHENY COURTS

Wants Damages From Dr. J. P. Kerr
For Operation on Wife.

A big damage suit has been started in the Allegheny county courts by John Davis and his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Davis, against Dr. J. P. Kerr of Pittsburgh. This is the outcome of the discovery of a piece of gauze which had been sewed up in the wound after an operation had been made upon Mrs. Davis by Dr. Kerr. No statement has been filed as yet but it is understood a large amount will be asked. Last June the operation in Pittsburgh was performed and a few days ago a subsequent operation in Morgantown resulted in the discovery that the gauze had been left in the wound. Mr. Davis is still in a serious condition.

COW INJURED. Dogs Chase Her Up Against Fence and She Cuts Herself.

Not only have dogs been bothering people in the borough of late but in the townships they have been pecked, too. Last Saturday night some vicious dogs attacked a cow belonging to Peter Ault of East Francis avenue, which was grazing in the field to the old Springer place, ran her against a barbed wire fence and caused her to cut her mouth severely.

It was feared for a time that they would have to kill her but, after calling Dr. F. N. Sherrick, it was found to be unnecessary.

PLANS MADE FOR S. S. CONVENTION.

Elaborate Program Arranged and There Will Be Many Unusual Features.

SOME GOOD SPEAKERS COME

Special Interest Attaches Fact That Fayette County Leads the World
in School Work—Big Parade on Morning of June 16.

A remarkable convention is anticipated when the Fayette County Sunday School Association convenes here on June 15 and 16. Because Fayette county leads the world in Sunday School work special interest attaches to the coming gathering. There will be exceptionally good speakers, as well as other features of unusual interest.

Among the speakers will be Mrs. Carrie Stewart Bessner of New York city, Miss Nanette Leo Frayer of Louisville, Ky., who is the greatest Bible story teller in the world, W. G. Landis, of Philadelphia, the State Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Association; Rev. Virgil C. Flinnell of Elgin, Ill.; L. L. Henry of Chicago, who will lead the singing, and a possibility of having Bishop W. A. Quixey of Oklahoma City, Okla. These with the county workers, assure the success of the convention.

The special features of the convention will be a house to house canvass of Connellsville on the evening of the 15th between 5 and 6 o'clock. A great children's meeting on the 16th at 8 A. M. addressed by Mrs. Carrie Stewart Bessner and Miss Nanette Leo Frayer and conferences for departmentals of the work will also be interesting.

Front Line Banner to Front Line Districts, the awarding of Front Line certificates to Front Line schools will be made at this time.

The great Sunday School parade will move pompously at 11 A. M. on the 16th when it is expected many of the organized adult classes of the county will turn out in a body, as well as many schools within easy reach of Connellsville. A great chorus choir made up from the different churches of Connellsville under the direction of L. L. Henry will be on hand to lead the singing.

THE BURGLARS VISIT SCOTSDALE

Stein Presented Nick Bohn by Andy
Haas of Connellsville, Was Set Down Again.

SCOTSDALE, May 22.—Burglars entered the house of Nick Bohn, the meat dealer on Walnut avenue, last night, and searched the first floor. They took only a few pennies, so far as the household could learn by a hasty examination this morning. A stein presented to Mr. Bohn by Andy Haas of Connellsville, about three years ago, was taken from the mantle where it stood and set over on the dining room table. The stein when picked up by a curious person sets like a Jack in the Box, a snake on a spring concealed in the interior jumping out at the investigator. Perhaps this representation of Old King Alcohol's pet served to hurry the intruders away.

Child Scalded.
Catherine, the two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bier of Uniontown, was severely burned by pulling a tea pot of boiling tea over on her.

Slashed Her Husband.
Mrs. Charles Shepley, a negro of Uniontown, slashed her husband while he was talking to another dusky dam. She made a gash an inch and a half long.

CHURCH CENSUS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Scottdale's Enumeration and
the Church People There Like Best.

NEARLY EVERYONE ANSWERED

Those That Refused to Give Any Church Preference Will Have Their Names Go to All the Ministers and Should Receive Flattering Attention.

SCOTSDALE, May 22.—The religious census taken in Scottsdale last evening was a glorious success, and the committees that had it in charge are engaged upon the tabulation work that will give a definite census of the town, and besides that will name the church preference of nearly every man, woman and child living in the town.

About 150 men and women made the enumeration between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, and at but a few places were they turned down. There was no hard feelings over this, but rather it was amusing to those that were seeking information. At one place, as an illustration, the man of the house inquired if the visitors had any authority to take such an enumeration. Naturally the enumerators explained that they did not.

"Then get off my premises, get off," was the order. He emphasized the order, and the enumerators scattered. Today the man is getting some good-natured "kidding" from his neighbors, who saw the occurrence. At the most of the places the people were ready and expecting the visitors and in many cases had fixed up their cards from samples shown in the newspapers, so that all that was necessary was to read them off and make the check marks. At all the hotels of town the cards were ready and those gave the entire list from the proprietor down to the hotel staff, and the transient guests in the house. It was the same way with the boarding houses or ones where no one was at home were to be found.

Among the foreign population there was no trouble whatever encountered, although the enumeration was probably slower. Visitors who were acquainted with different languages accompanied by interpreters to explain the mission of the visitors found ready response. Quite a number of those who promised to join the band of church members were gathered up quickly. One superintendent was several short in his crew and an appeal to Rev. M. A. Lambing, pastor of St. John the Baptist R. C. Church, brought four visitors onto the job in ten minutes.

After the enumeration the visitors all gathered at the Baptist Church and the cards were sorted out by church preferences. One minister, who should be good thinker for an election officer, expected that the tabulation would be made up this evening. He confessed when it got started that he had been too hopeful. But he dug in and made good that he is a fast and steady worker.

About 11 o'clock there was a lunch served the workers, who did not see the end of their work by any means, for it will take some time to finish it up. Then each minister will be presented with a list where the church named as preferred is the denomination that the minister is with. The names of the few who refused to give any church preference whatever will be given to every minister. Those who have no church preference will not lack attention. It can't be cried about by those outside of the church that the church shows no interest in people except for its own members, and no blame can be attached that the churches of Scottsdale are not trying to reach out to the people. Another anti-church argument will thus be washed out definitely through this census.

It will be the means, too, of inviting many back to the church of their youth or their liking who have strayed away, or have been lost track of simply because there was no one to reach out the hand of friendship and invite them in. No attention was paid to church membership. The census simply inquired what church the people preferred most and the Sunday school that the children or adults attended. There has been a wonderful wave of Sunday school attendance over Scottsdale and this community through the organization of the Church Federation, and more grown people than ever before in the history of the town are now attending Sunday school.

PERRY MARATHON. Is Attracting Widespread Attention and Arousing Much Interest.

PERRYOPOLIS, May 22.—All Perry waits in anticipation of the baseball Marathon which will be run on Thursday, May 27, beginning at 4 P. M. The race will be run over a track four laps to the mile, and the distance to be run is 10 miles.

Many handsome prizes have been offered and the entry list is still open. Candidates must send their names to Philip Hilderbran by 7 P. M. on May 24. The proceeds of the race will be devoted to the Perryopolis baseball team.

GREAT RIVALRY BETWEEN SCHOOLS.

The Courier's Free Picnic to Shady Grove Is Creating It.

ALL TRYING FOR BIG CROWD

Directors, Parents and Friends Join Teachers and Pupils in Effort to Have Biggest Crowd at Shady
Grove Outing, Wednesday, May 26.

There has been an intense rivalry started up among the schools of Greater Connellsville to see which can bring out the biggest and best crowd to the free school picnic that The Courier is tendering the schools of Greater Connellsville to beautiful Shady Grove park on Wednesday next. The free transportation and the free amusement tickets which The Courier is giving is much appreciated and the schools are coming back with promises of having big crowds there.

The School Directors are particularly interested in the affair and each one is working hard among the people of his district to see that his school is well represented at the big outing. The fathers and mothers and the older brothers and sisters of the children, their cousins, their uncles and aunts are eager with anticipation and everyone wants the children to have a good time that day, and that is what they will have. Incidentally the older folks are preparing for the great time themselves and the talk of the household is the picking of big lunch baskets, and boxes that will be taken along that day. It is the opening of the Shady Grove season and The Courier is giving the first theme of the season.

Thus far no teacher has reported to The Courier asking that a substitute be put on for that day. Every teacher is looking forward with delightful anticipation to the day, and each one is engaged in thoughts of having their schools make a good showing, when they assemble to go to Shady Grove as is fully explained on another page of The Courier. However, if any teacher should be compelled for any reason to have a substitute on that day they will please notify The Courier office and a substitute will be found.

The parents and friends of the schools will just about depopulate Connellsville that day. Everyone that can get away will be there. When one starts to take the school children out of town, they interest everyone. It will be the biggest picnic that has ever gone out of here.

Shady Grove is in perfect condition, many new attractions, everything fixed up fresh for the season, which The Courier picnic will open. The West Penn Railway Company are making all preparations to handle the big crowd expeditiously and comfortably. As many cars as can be centered here that day will be in use.

The Courier furnishes the free transportation and two amusement tickets to every school child. It is a large and expensive undertaking, but The Courier never hesitates when the pleasure of the people is up for consideration, and a day of delightful, healthful enjoyment, in the park and among the wild flowers of spring is at hand to the teachers and children of the schools, who are just closing up an arduous year.

SOME BAD STABLES.

Health Officer Hyatt Finds Two or Three in Poor Condition.
Health Officer Allen Hyatt has forwarded his report on the inspection of cow stables to the State Health Department. He says that after investigating all the stables in his district, he found them in excellent condition except two or three.

The bad ones were in very poor condition.

COAL AND COKE OPERATORS GATHERING IN NEW PROPERTIES.

Activity Noted In Transactions of Coal Land and Coking Plants Since Merger Announcement.

PLENTY OF MEASLES.

Eight Cases Are Reported To The Board of Health This Morning.
As a result of the announcement on the part of Health Officer Allen Hyatt that he had reported several local physicians for not notifying him of contagious diseases, eight new cases of measles were reported since yesterday.

Health Officer Hyatt says he not only expects all of these cases to be reported, but he must be told of them promptly.

ALIBI IS DEFENSE OF DELMAR YOUNG

He Was Placed on Trial at Erie To day For Murder of His Mother.

United Press Telegram.

ERIE, Pa., May 22.—Counsel for Delmar Young, the accused murderer of his mother, stated that at the resumption of the trial this morning, Young would go on the stand and account for nearly every minute of the day on which his mother was killed. The defense is trying to shake the testimony of the prosecution's star witness, Norrene Gillespie, by the testimony of Detective John Marshall, who testified this morning that Young's mother had been dead longer than was stated by other witnesses, probably 40 minutes and that he had found that the defendant had not been there at that time.

William McGuinness and F. W. Leibold testified they met Young some distance from his home on April 7, the day of the murder, at about 7 o'clock, when the murder is said to have been committed. Other witnesses also testified to the same facts.

CONSPIRACY TO BEAT GOVERNMENT UNEARTHED

It Has Gone on For Years But Probe
Is Going to the Bottom This Time.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 22.—A conspiracy of many years standing, involving Customs inspectors, many big importers, transportation companies and men higher up in the New York Customs Service, may be revealed through the Departmental investigation at Washington.

The Secret Service and New York detectives claim the following abuses: Undervaluation of imports, collusion between the transportation line employees and inspectors, bribery of inspectors by importers, frauds in weighing and inspectors' graft on the traveling public. Secretary Franklin McVey, of the Treasury Department, states he will go to the bottom of the affair.

RITENOUR BUYS GREENSBURG PAPER

Uniontown Editor Will Transfer His Energies To The Westmoreland County Capital.

GREENSBURG, May 22.—Receiver James E. Bell, sold The Greensburg Star, and the Weekly Clipper, together with the plant, to John S. Ritenour, of Uniontown, yesterday afternoon, who will take charge as soon as the proper preliminaries are concluded.

M. Ritenour is recognized as one of the ablest editors of the State. He was formerly editor of the Pittsburg Post, and was proprietor and editor of the Evening Genius of Uniontown. It is the purpose of the new proprietor to make The Star a purely Democratic paper.

Working on Yough Bridge.
Workmen this morning began laying rails for the West Penn cars crossing the Yough bridge. When this is completed the flooring beneath the permanent tracks will be torn away and repairs made.

ARE DESTINED FOR MERGER

Francis Rocks and Thomas J. Lynn
Purchase The Rock Coal & Coke
Company—George G. Gans Sells
the Brownsville Coke Company Plant.

The assurances given this week that the Connellsville coke merger proposition will be consummated has brought about considerable activity, not only in coke and coal lands, but in the sale of smaller coking plants. A feature of these purchases is that all of them are destined for the merger.

One of the big deals announced since the coke merger plans became known is the purchase of the Rocks Coal & Coke Company by Francis Rocks of Masonstown, and Thomas J. Lynn of Uniontown. The purchase was made from the Sons of Connellsville. Mr. Rocks built the works at Lynn station, on the Redstone branch of the Pennsylvania, about five years ago, later disposing of his half-interest in the plant to the Sons. The latter have operated the plant of 112 ovens for several years. With the plant is included between 200 and 225 acres of coal, with an additional small tract lying back of the larger one. The latter will probably be purchased.

The price paid for the works is announced at as being over half a million dollars. The new owners contemplate the erection of 58 ovens bringing the plant up to 200 ovens.

It is probable that with the acquisition of this plant all of Mr. Rocks' holdings, 320 ovens and four coke plants, will be taken into the merger. George G. Gans, who recently purchased the Brownsville Coke Company, of 50 ovens at Brownsville Junction, has sold it to F. W. Somers, this consideration being announced at $110,000. There are 36 acres of coal in the tract and the works is now in operation. The plant will go into the merger.

At the annual meeting of the Orient Coke Company the following officers were elected for the year: Julian Kennedy, President; Robert Bentley, Vice President; Rein Kennedy, Secretary and Treasurer; R. M. Fry, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer; and O. W. Kennedy, General Manager. An inspection of the works was made and general satisfaction expressed by the stockholders. The plant has been running two-thirds of its capacity, six days a week. In spite of the dull times the company reports a satisfactory business.

Among the new operations in the region is the new plant of the Mount Pleasant Coke Company, near Hecla, for north end of the Connellsville region. The plant will consist of 100 ovens. The mine is almost in shape and the plant is expected to be in running order this fall.

In the Greensburg field, the Keystone Coal & Coke Company will build 100 ovens at Alexandria, and the Pittsburg & Westmoreland Coal Company will build 300 ovens of the rectangular type at their Bendleyville plant in the Washington coking coal field. Jones & Laughlin will erect 800 of those ovens at their new plant, near Alliquippa.

Harbison-Walker and other fire-brick people report large orders for brick for this summer's delivery.

Action in Ejectment.

An action in ejectment was started yesterday by Basil A. Brownfield against Basil B. Brownfield to secure possession of a portion of the old Brownfield homestead property in South Union township, the action being filed in behalf of the plaintiff by Attorney A. D. Boyd. The plaintiff claims title to the property against a deed held by the defendant as trustee as conveyed to him by Lee Brownfield, September 14, 1901.

Echo of Rutek.

Attorney S. R. Goldsmith yesterday filed an execution on a mortgage held by Malinda Porter against Peter Rutek and Ross S. Matthews, trustees in bankruptcy for Peter Rutek, a bankrupt terra tenant. The mortgage is for $2,800, dated February 27, 1907, and covers property formerly owned by Rutek at Arch street and Porter avenue, Connellsville.

Connellsville Boys Entertain Scottdale

The Gymnasts of the Two Y. M. C. Associations Meet in Lively Contests.

Scottdale and Connellsville gymnasts enjoy themselves thoroughly at the local gymnasium last night. Twelve men under the leadership of Physical Director Adams executed a number of good stunts on the mat, and worked in conjunction with the local on horizontal and parallel bars. One of the Scottdale boys discovered the medicine balls and the result of that discovery was that seven of the Scottdale boys entered in a free for all bombardment for the enjoyment of the others present. They pelted one another for fifteen minutes and the fact that the medicine balls weighed from 8 to 12 pounds made no difference to them. The locals gave a good account of themselves and the meeting was a profitable and sociable one. After the gym work the men enjoyed a good phone in the pool.

The Scottdale men were Gilbert, Wilmer, Keller, Ober, Krie, Walker, Kuhn, Smith, C. Robbins, A. Robbins, L. Robbins and Adams. The Connellsville men were Homer McCabe, Algaire, Reed, Turner, Arthur Butterworth, R. Ward, H. Bowman, Edgar Hornor and C. Whipple. At a later date the Connellsville men will go to Scottdale.

OUTLOOK IS GOOD.

That is What H. C. Frick Thinks of Business Situation.

Henry Clay Frick returned to America yesterday after a brief trip abroad. He went to accompany Mrs. Frick, Miss Helen Frick and Chittie Frick home. He has paid little attention to business lately.

"From my information I should think confidence was being restored," said Mr. Frick. "The strength of the stock market seems to indicate this. I have not been in close touch with affairs, but see nothing that should cause pessimistic sentiment."

GOOD WEATHER WILL BRING BIG CROWDS OUT

Excursion Business Will Be Brisk If Sun Will Only Shine on Sunday.

If the weather is fine tomorrow a large crowd will turn out and excursion business will be brisk. The usual Sunday excursion will be run up the Indian Creek Valley railroad to Killarney Park, Rogers' Mills and other points along this picturesque line, and President Charles F. Hood's road has been getting the cream of the early excursion traffic this season.

The Pennsylvania railroad will run an excursion to Pittsburgh and intermediate points while the only excursion scheduled for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is that to Fairmount on account of the ball game there with Uniontown.

The Ohio excursion will begin a week from tomorrow and from that time on the excursion business will be in full blast.

AFTER POOL ROOM VIOLATORS OF LAW

County Detectives Are Bringing Prosecutions in Uniontown to Reform Vice.

UNIONTOWN, May 22.—August Schmitz, proprietor of a West Main street pool room, was held for court this morning by Justice of the Peace John Boyle on a charge of violating the pool room law by admitting boys under 16.

Schmitz claimed he was near sighted and chased Sperry Campbell, the boy in question, out of the room several times, but could not always recognize him when he returned.

Ben Lattery, a colored pool room proprietor, was to have had a hearing on a similar charge today but it was postponed. Ben is in jail.

WHAT IS HEM-ROID.

A Tablet, Taken Internally, That Cures Piles. Piles (hemorrhoids) are getting more common every day, because we live unnaturally, overeating, overworking, taking little exercise, gradually causing a distention of veins and tissues in the lower bowel. MAN NOT SO FAMOUS BUT QUOTATION IS

What a High School Lad Put in His Examination Paper as Famous Saying.

That there is one youngster in town that notices local happenings and who ought to grow into a man interested in civic affairs was shown during an examination given by Prof. Fred A. Masters of the High School lately. Among other questions was one asked the pupil to give a favorite saying of prominent man. That youngster did not leave his own town, county State, or nation to find one he believed to be prominent. He gave on his examination paper "Pay your 1900 taxes soon in order to save your five per cent. discount—Tax Collector George B. Brown." It's a saying that is familiar to every citizen of Greater Connellsville.

BALL GAME AT ROGERS' THIS AFTERNOON

Mill Run Team and Picked Mountain Team Will Encounter Each Other on Diamond.

There will be a ball game up at Rogers' Mill on the Indian Creek Valley railroad this afternoon at 3 o'clock between the Mill Run team and a picked nine from about that section. The place has a heavy lunch of players and a great game is forecast. The Indian Creek Valley railroad is getting ready to add a ball park at Killarney and some exciting games will be played there this summer.

Fund Is Exhausted.

In Social Circles.

The Army and Navy Meet.

A joint meeting of the Army and Navy Literary Societies of No. 3 South Side schools, class of Principal George H. Bell, was held at 810 Syracuse street, last evening. The decorations displayed the taste and ability of the committee in charge, the pennants of the respective societies being much in evidence.

From 8:30 to 10:30 was devoted to games and recitations, in which much interest and enthusiasm were manifested, and in which all participated. After refreshments, the meeting was called to order by the President, Joseph May and the following program was rendered:

Selections: Ray Towney, Joseph May, and the following program was rendered: How "Freshman" Looks to Me, "Sophomore" Looks to Me, "Senior" Looks to Me, "The Pitchfork Budget of Hammerhead Slacks," ably edited by Gerald Schoonover, was then read, at the close of which the meeting adjourned, and as the members of the class separated they realized that this, their last meeting, had been one of the most enjoyable.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the South Connellsville Evangelical Church held a very pleasant social meeting on Tuesday afternoon at the home of the pastor, Rev. W. B. Dunsen. A very interesting program, consisting of musical and literary selections, was well rendered. The annual meeting of the boxes took place and a most little sum was realized. Refreshments were served at 10:30.

The Missionary Society of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Evangelical Association is educating a native Japanese girl in Japan for missionary work and the society has a radio box which will be used to help defray the expenses of the school. About 46 members were present.

Interesting Papers Read.

Following our established custom, our rigidly enforced business rule, we inaugurate our great Semi-Annual Clearance Sale of Dresses

SALE STARTS FRIDAY, MAY 21st.

Our policy never to carry over garments from season to season, is made possible by this sale. We make tremendous sacrifices in prices, rather than carry over for next season.

ONE-HALF PRICE

One-half the regular selling price is the Clearance Sale Price on all dresses regardless of regular value. These clearance sales have been most successful in the past and in a measure assure the success of this present sale. ONE-HALF on all dresses is a deep cut and means wonderful values for quick thinking shoppers—shoppers who will be eager to grasp the opportunity and share in the savings of this clearance offer.

The largest stock in Fayette county—selection can be easily and pleasantly made here. Here you find countless style expressions, exclusive styles not to be found in department stores.

Ready-to-wear, no other line, is our business. Naturally you'll find more styles, larger stocks and greater values.

This sale does not reduce the high quality of the garments, it simply reduces stocks on high quality merchandise.

Every woman in this section and surrounding country—everyone in striking distance—should take advantage of this great semi-annual clearance sale.

WHAT THE COKE MERGER WILL DO FOR THE COKE REGION.

The announcement that the proposed Connelville coke merger is practically made and that it is now only a question of working out the details is not very surprising to those who have been watching the progress of the movement. THE CONCLUSION HAS BECOME GENERAL THAT THE COKE MERGER IS THE CONNELLSVILLE REGION'S ETERNAL SALVATION.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch which announces the consummation of the coke country consolidation project, comments upon it editorially after the following fashion:

Announcement is made that the new merger in Connelville coke plants has been arranged and orders given for arrangements of the properties. The new company will have a capital of $500,000 which will make it rival the coke interest of the United States Steel Corporation. Between the two they will control the bulk of Connelville coke output. The transaction is interesting in view of its magnitude and for other reasons. It is the fact that this much interest capital in this part of Pennsylvania will be converted into cash. The money will be seeking investment of some sort and should aid in quickening the business movement.

Incidental to the merger will be the development of the properties involved. This will give employment to labor. Some of the properties included are now operating, but it is expected they will be enlarged while new plants will be started. In the place of the matter the general public is interested as well as in the probable creation of several new towns with their natural commercial business. The whole affair is a matter of the multiplying significance that financial confidence has been fully restored and that there is all that is needed for the complete resumption of business.

The merger virtually eliminates the small companies from the coke region, and the question naturally arises whether it will also eliminate real competition. Of course, it does not create a monopoly in the real sense of the word, but it will practically monopolize the business in the hands of two concerns narrowing the chance of consumers for trading.

The Dispatch has touched upon many of the features incident to and resultant from the merger, but it has failed to mention the one moving cause that urged every operator to it and without which it would undoubtedly have been a failure, namely, the protection it will afford the coking interests against ruinous competition in times of dull demand and over production, a competition which has vitiated the last year, and in the past, brought the price of coke so low that it barely covered the cost of actual manufacture counting nothing for the value of the coke, which has been sold for more than $3.00 per acre!

The consolidation will not necessarily mean the immediate development of new coke properties, neither will it mean the arbitrary bottling up of any territory. It will mean that those who own coal will get the best possible value out of it. It will mean an end of ruinous waste in the coke trade. It will mean a WISE CONSERVATION OF ONE OF OUR GREATEST NATURAL RESOURCES.

It will also steady the coke trade, uphold prices at profitable levels, protect wage earners against needless reductions, and promote the prosperity of the whole people.

WHY WE GIVE A PICNIC TO THE SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Why do we give the school children a picnic?

It is not a circulation scheme, and some people who see nothing but the cold and selfish and sordid side of life cannot understand why The Courier should take such a lively interest in the little folks.

"Suffer them to come into this for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven," said the Compassionate One. "The children are not all angels, but they are in general the incarnation of innocence, and that is why all those whose hearts are not shut have loved them."

Not the least of the many good aims of The Courier is to let a little much-needed sunshine into the lives of its constituents, and especially its little constituents, because the latter appreciate sunshine more than their elders. They revel in it and their enjoyment is reflected in their homes. We love the little folks. We would sooner give them a picnic than a pang. We were all boys and girls once, and we all have vivid recollections of the joys of childhood. The days were long and sunny then. The clouds grew bigger and the horizon more gloomy as we grew older, hence the justice and the charity of making childhood happy.

We give the school children an outing because we love them, and because we fully expect them all to be readers of The Courier when they grow up.

DESIRABLE IMPROVEMENTS:

NOT ALL OF THEM TIMELY.

The advent of the Federal Building on Apple street is destined to make a change in the business district and the borough authorities are only reasonably and properly anticipating new but inevitable conditions by preparing to open the several thoroughfares adjacent to the new business section.

The opening up of Johnson avenue through to Apple street will be generally approved, but the opening up of Arch street from Peach street to Apple street, and the grading and opening of Prospect street from Main street to Peach street, is of doubtful propriety just at this time. It will be conceded, we think, that those thoroughfares should be opened at the first practicable moment but both propositions will prove difficult and costly.

The grading of Arch street through and under the Pennsylvania railroad will necessitate the condemnation of valuable property on the west side of the street, and the cutting down of the grade and the consequent liability for damages to property left high and dry on the east side.

The grading of Prospect street will render necessary heavy cutting of Apple street at both approaches to Prospect and the consequent interference of large damage claims there.

In the present condition of the town finances it will be necessary to go slowly with both the Arch and Prospect street improvements but we see no reason why there should not be an immediate start upon the most desirable and least difficult proposition concerning the opening out of Johnson avenue through to Apple street.

The law which requires physicians to report all cases of measles as well as all other infectious diseases is not a joke and it should be taken seriously. It is the fact upon our local physicians. The necessity of such action should never be again. We look to our medical men in the matter of conveying hygienic and sanitary conditions.

The country needed the gentle rain lately, but it can dispense with any further rain from Jack Frost.

We who have always lived here cannot appreciate a man leaving a magnificent home and leaving it to a stranger. We who have always lived here cannot appreciate a man leaving a magnificent home and leaving it to a stranger. We who have always lived here cannot appreciate a man leaving a magnificent home and leaving it to a stranger.

The Young bridge is free to the public, but its maintenance will have to be on the free list.

The State is awakening to the fact that it owes something to its Connelville citizenry. It is in the hands of the legislature to the contrary, but it is not expected to keep the building up. It is State property and its maintenance is a State charge.

The Wheeling Short Line is a long time building it. The new cars and their way it could be short work.

Scottsdale has a bonded indebtedness of $114,000, but her citizens have a meeting to show for it.

Salaries of public officials cannot be increased or diminished during the term of office. When a man is elected to office, he is elected to a certain salary. The waiting Washington Post-Tribune should in this connection have some things to say. It is a pity that the people who do not know what the new law is and have no means of knowing it.

Reasons Why H. S. Dumbauld Should Be Nominated for Judge on June 5th.

Advertisement.

He is pledged to the one term rule.

So is Alfred J. Jones the Republican nominee. Judge Dumbauld was but a boy when the Democratic party was required to enter the full campaign with such a handicap.

His ability is conceded.

His integrity is unquestioned.

His nomination would refute the common notion that a poor man can not be nominated for an important office.

He has told the people of the county what he stands for. His opponent, thus far, has maintained silence.

He stands for a fair primary against corruption and against the Pittsburgh paper widely circulated in Duquesne county of date May 19, 1909.

He has the judicial temperament—slow to decide, but firm when once decided.

He is a consistent Democrat, worthy of the support of the party. It has been necessary for him to vote 8 days that he voted for Bryan in 1896.

He has no corporation connections to take the time from his official duties.

THE BIGGEST CLASS IN THE COUNTY.

Scottdale High School Graduates the Most Ever in Westmoreland.

CLASS HAS THIRTY MEMBERS

The Baccalaureate Service Will Be Preached Tomorrow Evening Class Day Tuesday and Commencement on Wednesday.

SCOTSDALE, May 22.—The exercises in connection with the formal Commencement season of the Scottdale High School will begin tomorrow evening, when Rev. H. W. Miller, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, will preach the annual sermon to the graduating class, which is the largest ever to be graduated from any high school in Westmoreland county, there being 30 members in all.

The sermon will be delivered in the First Methodist Episcopal Church at the regular hour of 7:30 o'clock and the graduates will appear for the first time in public wearing their caps and gowns, which will also be worn at Commencement. The seniors will occupy the front seats, and will be accompanied by the members of the Board of Education and the teachers.

The largest class to be graduated from the school previous to this one numbered 19. The class of this year shows well, eight having an average grade of 90 per cent or over for the course. John D. Miller, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Miller, wins that place and Charles H. Cramer, son of Editor J. H. Cramer of The Observer, takes second honors.

The class roll is as follows: W. Howard Baker, Emma H. Bryant, Charles H. Cramer, Rena M. Cramer, Edna M. Knick, Sarah E. Fretts, Ruth E. Frey, Mai Gibson, Ethel Mae Gordon, Warren H. Hayes, Florence E. Hurst, Margaret H. Kitching, Edna H. Lowmyer, Grace M. Lockard, Clarence Longmeyer, Lillian L. Loucks, Mary E. Mayoy, John E. Miller, Ida M. Miller, Kay A. Murphy, Nan E. Murphy, Gertrude O'Brien, Nicholas W. O'Connor, Gertrude Reid, Floss S. Sherrick, Mabel B. Shotts, Edith M. Shupe, Harry G. Shupe, Vincent M. Smith and Viola Vanflore.

The class day exercises will be held in the Geyer Opera House on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be music, readings and poems and the class play "Professor Grindem's Commencement." The Commencement exercises will be held in the opera house on Wednesday evening. Dr. Edwin D. Sparks, President of State College, will deliver the address of the evening, his subject being "The Great Crucible." The invocation will be by Rev. D. W. Miller, pastor of the Lutheran Church, and there will be orations from the two honor students. The high school chorus will be present, and the instrumental music will be by the Hardy orchestra. The presentation of the diplomas will be by Dr. O. I. Hess. There are a number of social affairs all during the week, parties, banquets, picnics, etc.

Three Ladies' Suite for the price of one at Mace & Co. Monday and Tuesday. See our ad and window.

Maid a Pleasant Party. Miss Emma Welsh was the hostess of a very pleasant party given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welsh, a mile west of town, when a large number of her young friends assembled there and enjoyed the evening greatly. Miss Welsh is a member of the Sophomore Class of the High School and her father having purchased a farm in Lower Tyrone township the family is preparing to move there, so that this was in the nature of a farewell party before vacation.

Opened Mite Boxes. There was a largely attended meeting of the Junior Endeavor Society of the United Brethren Church last night at which the children's mite boxes were opened and a large amount of money deposited therein was removed. An excellent program of speeches and recitations was also a feature of the evening.

Again Elected a Bishop. In the 25th quadrennial session of the United Brethren Church in Canton, O., this week, J. S. Mills of Annville was again elected a Bishop. He is very well known here and a brother-in-law of Albert, A. L. D. F. and F. O. Keister. Bishop Mills has charge of the territory east of Chicago and presides over the Allegheny Conference which includes the churches here.

92 Ladies' Suits. That sold at $38.50, $35.00, $32.50, $30.00, $28.50 and $26.50 for Monday and Tuesday $10.80 at Mace & Co. See our ad and window.

Two School Exhibitions. Hiding Froling, who is at the head of the department of Manual Training in the Scottdale schools, gave an exhibition of the work of the year at the Chestnut street school building yesterday, which was largely attended. Some very fine pieces of work were shown, and the products of the brain and hands of the boys. Miss Ellen Beauchamp, who has charge of the sewing, painting and the kindred arts, is giving an exhibition of the pupils' handwork today, and holding a reception which is being well attended.

Gave a Party Last Evening. Quite a number of the young people of town were out at the party given at the home of A. L. Downing of West Scottdale last evening. There was a large gathering and a very enjoyable time was had. Music, games and a dainty luncheon were features of the evening.

Miss Sweeney's Funeral. Rev. R. F. Mansell, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, went to Latrobe this morning to assist in the funeral services of Miss Nannie I. Sweeney, who died suddenly at the home of her sister, Mrs. Geo. H. Sewell, a former resident of Scottdale. Miss Sweeney was found dead in bed from heart failure on Thursday morning.

WEB FOOTED SNAKE FOUND AT ADDISON

Community Has Thrilling Encounter With Startling Monster Not Described by Roosevelt.

ADDISON, May 21.—A new kind of snake has been discovered in this reptile-ridden community and, while the farmers about are not positive whether its bite is fatal, none is willing to try the experiment. The breed has been noticed in the vicinity for the past two years, but it is very scarce. The reptile grows to a length about five feet and is very thick. It is also powerful, and is repulsive to look upon. With a red head and beady green eyes which glitter at one in a most uncomfortable manner, the snake has an additional feature, a short, web foot, which makes versus its horrible and distorted appearance.

One of these reptiles was killed yesterday by Jasper Augustine of Uniontown, who was driving with his son John, from Addison to Confluence. While descending a hill just below Addison, the reptile leaped at the buggy and wound itself about the spokes of the rear wheel. So powerful were the reptile's muscles that the momentum of the buggy was stopped. The strain, however, was too great, and a few well directed blows with the whip killed the monster.

These snakes can leap eight or 10 feet. They are abhorred worse than the rattlers and copperheads which have infested the neighborhood.

STRIKER'S CASE.

National President Sets Forth Their Side of Controversy.

Cleveland, May 22.—William F. Yates, national president of the Marine Engineers' Benevolent association, issued a reply here in answer to a statement made recently by William Livingston, president of the Lake Carriers' association, regarding the marine strike on the Great Lakes. "Yates makes reply to Mr. Livingston on six points, his answers being as follows:

"1. The open-shop policy of the Lake Carriers' association is not only to give employment to men who do not belong to unions, but also force union men to renounce all allegiance to their organizations.

"2. This application blanks for employment on Lake Carriers' association vessels for all employees except engineers are so worded that no union man can sign one of them and consistently retain his union membership. While no reference is made to unions in the contracts for engineers, neither is a guarantee of permanent employment given. Men have been taken off vessels and forced at the risk of loss of employment to sign affidavits renouncing allegiance to all labor unions.

"3. The welfare plan was not originated for the benefit of the men and is not optional with the individual.

"4. The statement that the strike is not affecting commerce is untrue. Many ships are tied up.

"5. The wages paid marine workers on the Great Lakes are lower than those paid to any marine men in the world, with the exception of Chinese and Japanese seamen. The individual contracts used last year reduced materially the amount of wages paid.

"6. Proof that the strike is having an effect is found in that foreigners are being employed on boats and engineers are being brought from the coasts by armed detectives.

In closing Mr. Yates says he believes the strike will end in a victory for the engineers.

MUST USE GOOD EGGS

Two Men Get Sixty Days For Handling Aged Ones.

New York, May 22.—Two men have been sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment—one for selling bad eggs, the other for using them in making pastry.

This announcement was made by the board of health last night. They are the first cases on record in New York where a prison sentence has been imposed for the offense. This dramatic action was taken to break up the practice which the reported imposition of fines failed to check.

Noted Peace Advocate Dead. Cincinnati, May 22.—William Christlo Herron, age sixty-six, noted world peace advocate, philanthropist and millionaire, died at his home here. He was formerly president of the Universal Peace society of Cincinnati. When the Baroness Von Suttner, advocate of peace, visited this country several years ago, she made a pilgrimage to the old Herron home in recognition of the Cincinnati's work.

BETTER HOMES THAN LIBRARIES.

General Sternberg Gives a Hint to Andrew Carnegie.

HOW TO USE TEN MILLIONS

Former Surgeon General of the United States Army, Speaking Before the National Conference on City Planning.

Washington, May 22.—"If a Carnegie or a Rockefeller would invest $10,000,000 in model homes for the poor of this city, placing the trust in competent hands and devoting the returns to the construction of additional modern homes, the nation would be spending benefit to the wage earner and to the community generally would be far greater than could be obtained from the same amount of money invested in libraries or hospitals," declared Surgeon General George M. Sternberg, U. S. A., president of the president's committee on housing in speaking before the national conference on city planning.

General Sternberg asserted that private enterprise has proved inadequate in meeting the question of improved housing conditions here. Henry Morgenthau of New York told of the congestion of the population problem in New York city, while Don John C. Marsh of New York spoke of the national phase of the city planning idea, holding that even if New York city alone were affected thereby it would be of national importance, because thousands of emigrants spread to hundreds of cities throughout the country raised Scottsdale views which they gather while living in the congested districts of New York city. Representative O'Leary of New York presided at the meeting.

WILL SUBMIT PROOF

Signature of Alleged Missing Archduke Will Be Sent to Vienna.

Washington, May 22.—Opportunity to prove whether he is the long missing Archduke Johann Salvator of Austria is to be given John Orth, the Painesville (O.) machinist, who claims that he is the man.

Through the Austrian consul general in Chicago the embassy here has received word that John Orth has offered to submit an autograph signature to prove his contention. Baron Ambrosy, chargé d'affaires of the embassy here, says that when the letter arrives he will forward it to the foreign office in Vienna so that the handwriting may be compared with that of the archduke who gave up his title and disappeared from the court of Austria about twenty years ago.

GORE ATTACKS SENATOR SMOOT

But He Fails to Get a Rise
From the Utah Statesman.

CARBONS UNDER DISCUSSION

Allegations Made in the Senate That a Trust Controls the Output of Car-
bons Is Not Sustained—Burton Stands Up For Cleveland Industry.

Washington, May 22.—There were some squalls on the senatorial sea but notwithstanding the tariff bill made progress. A number of paragraphs were passed upon, and while in most instances they were disposed of with the understanding that the senate might still return to them, it is the general opinion that very little, if any, change will be made in most of them.

The house rates were retained in the polished glass paragraph, but with the understanding that when the bill is taken up in the senate proper, it now being considered as in the committee of the whole, there probably will be some alterations. The so-called "Republican progressives" criticized the house rate as too high, while Senator Oliver, who represents the glass-producing state of Pennsylvania, contended that the rate was entirely inadequate to the proper protection of the glass industry.

The interests considered during the day ranged all the way from mica and feldspar to automobile. Beginning with the mica paragraph, a number of committee recommendations were adopted. These included a marked increase on feldspar, made at the instance of Senator Bradley, and a decided reduction on gypsum. There was also a reduction in mica from the Dingley rate. Then came an interruption by Senator Thurston, who made a set speech outlining the Democratic position on the tariff. He declared that real Democrats were neither protectionists nor free traders but advocates of a revenue tariff only.

Carbon Trust Alleged.
Following Mr. Thurston's speech about four hours later was devoted to the paragraph fixing a duty on electric light carbons. The Dingley law provides a rate of 95 cents per 100, while the proposed provision fixed 67 cents and an ad valorem as the rate for the lampblack carbons, which is the class most generally imported.

Senators La Follette and Gore contended that the effect of this amendment would be to practically double the present rate and they charged that the change had been made in the interest of the National Carbon company, which they spoke of as a trust. Mr. Gore also asserted that there was a combination between the carbon makers and the Standard Oil company. Mr. Burton, who lives in Cleveland, where the carbon company is located, vigorously defended the paragraph. During the discussion of this paragraph Senator Gore made allusions to Senator Smoot, which were generally interpreted as personal, but the Utah senator made no reply.

Chance to Make Good.
With the continued discussion of the duty on carbons, Mr. Aldrich became impatient. "I think the senate was able to vote on this proposition five hours ago," he said.

Mr. Gore, the blind Oklahoma senator, brought the Standard Oil company into a personal reference to Senator Smoot. "It has been charged," he said, "that the National Carbon company is an adjunct of the Standard Oil trust and we will hear a great deal of hostility here against the Standard Oil company. There will be a sharp battle pulled out between the great trust, but here is a chance to demonstrate where senators stand in respect to that great monopoly."

"The senator from Utah, the high priest of high tariff, the ungodly apostle of protection, has stated here that there is a combination between this monopoly and the electric light companies of the country."

"I challenge the right of that senator to speak for the people of Oklahoma and I impeach his power to represent both the monopoly and the consumer. No man can properly represent both sides of a contest of this kind."

Mr. Gore quoted from the testimony of the secretary of the National Carbon company when before the ways and means committee, saying his company had a monopoly.

The Divine Affinity.
"This gentleman," Mr. Gore continued, "is one of the sanctified manufacturers, who cannot sin, and the only time his testimony is impeached is when he speaks of what he probably knows more about than anybody in this chamber."

"It must be due," continued Mr. Gore, referring to Senator Smoot, "that he has some divine affinity, some heavenly illumination, by which he is enabled to speak for the consumers of the country. I have not heard that the consumers want these prices increased."

Dr. Rohrer Dies of Gangrene.
Altos, Pa., May 22.—Dr. J. A. Rohrer, ex-member of the legislature and former treasurer of Blair county, died from gangrene in his left leg. The disease first attacked his right leg, which was amputated March 8.

Financial Facts for the People.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The advent of better times heralded by prices in general, rising back, clearing, and a generally improved feeling is regarded as certain to introduce another era of speculative investment.

Bulletins and "market letters" are in the mails already from the underworld of finance announcing an impending boom in mining securities. A gigantic amalgamation of copper producing interests of the country is hinted at, and based upon this "fact" the recipients of this literature are "tipped off" that now is the time to buy in a long list of "speculative" mining stocks at from $0.12 1/2 to $3.30 per share of one dollar par value.

People Have Forgotten.
The borderland of finance has two axioms: "A sucker is born every minute" and "Once a sucker always a sucker." The class upon whom this phalanx of money getting letters is directed is composed of "suckers" who do not know anything about the value of the securities they are buying, but are simply following the lead of the "expert" who tells them to buy.

One of the favorites this season, because now is the gold dredging season, is the gold dredging stock. There is money being made in gold dredging, but the people that are making it are those that already have money and do not need to hawk their securities over the length and breadth of the land at "five cents a share."

Where The Money Goes.
Even under the most favorable circumstances it is a costly proceeding to raise money for an enterprise through the flamboyant advertising methods used in promoting gold mines.

In a properly promoted and financed enterprise the percentage of money paid in that is expended for promoter's expenses will run from five per cent. to 15 per cent. or 20. This is about all the less an ordinary enterprise can stand and enjoy a reasonable margin of paying dividends out of the use of the unexpended funds. Much more initial expenditure seriously weakens any enterprise and is likely to prohibit its success.

Every Principle Violated.
Raising money by advertising costs from 20 to 50 per cent. of the cash furnished. Sometimes it runs up to 75 to 90 per cent. In extreme instances the amount left for material operations at the mine is scarcely enough to do preliminary prospecting work, to say nothing of the serious task of costly mining operations.

Not even a fool would hand over his pocketbook to a total stranger in a strange city on the man's mere assurance that he would bring back several times the sum. This might be done successfully once in a thousand times, but doing it once would demonstrate the need of a guardian. Yet Eugene Schuyler, after careful investigation, states that only about one out of a hundred mining enterprises in three months ever comes to a legitimate dividend paying stage.

The first principle in investment is investigation. The second, then, and the rest are the same. Nevertheless, when an energetic stock peddler, looking for a "one dollar" and as good looking as a dollar bill, is flashed before a "gold-fish-quick" investor as a "sure thing" for "only five cents a share," and with "money going up in ten cents next month," how can the investor of such a path with this opportunity to make a hundred per cent. profit ever resist?

Safety Ignored.

tion—often a mere prospect of a mine—is at a prohibitive distance; the investor actually has no certain knowledge that such a mine or prospect even exists. When the personality of directors and officers is looked into they too are thousands of miles away, and are of unknown business reputation, while the prominent ones are frequently men that know little or nothing about the business, but are in office for the sake of their names and influence.

The investor in advertised mining enterprises knows nothing about the safety of his principal or interest, and if he knew there actually was gold-bearing ground owned by the company, there stares him in the face the awful mortality of 250 to 1 against the probability of ever seeing his funds again.

A Better Plan.
An investor of limited means who is determined to secure the "uncertain increment" of speculative enterprises can follow a better plan than going into gold mining. Let him make the acquaintance of some local man of affairs who is known to be a man of integrity and successful in what he undertakes, and tell him that he has a certain amount to invest, and ask the privilege of being let into one of his good things. Such a request will usually not be ignored, but meet with a favorable response, and the small investor will have a thousand times better chance of making something out of his savings. If no such opportunity presents itself, his money should go into the bank or a first mortgage on a reliable bond recommended by his banker.

ONE OBSTACLE REMAINS
Only Tariff Debate Now Retards Trade Development, Says Dun's.
New York, May 22.—Dun's Review of Trade says today:

"Almost every development, except the long-running debate on the tariff, is favorable, and the gains made in spite of the tariff disturbance are a fair indication of what may be expected when that is out of the way. The domestic agricultural conditions are excellent, and yet the prices of farm products continue to advance. The area of improvement in iron and steel is rapidly widening, and a notable event of the week is the restoration of wages by the independent producers. The reports of the railroads are of steadily increasing business, and the latest earnings show a gain of 14.9 per cent. over last year, the decrease as compared with 1907 being 12.8 per cent."

"The primary cotton goods market still continues to be dominated by the high level of prices for the raw material. Export buying has been restricted, China having withdrawn entirely from the market for the present. In the woolen goods division duplicate business on heavy weights has been fairly satisfactory and a further improvement is anticipated, as clothiers now know the general trend of demand."

REVISION DOWNWARD.
Uncle Sam's Island Suffers Pangs of Tariff Reform.
Washington, May 22.—Guam, the United States island possession of the United States in the Pacific ocean, like its parent country, is in the throes of a tariff revision.

The natives, believing that they were burdened with unnecessarily high duties, Captain Edward J. Dorn, governor of the island, recently appointed Major Lawrence H. Moore, commander of the marine barracks at Guam, and two other naval officers to make a complete investigation. They recommended certain changes in the present tariff in order to make lower the duties on necessities.

Governor Dorn has called to the attention of the navy a draft of the new law, which recommends a revision downward on most articles. This will be approved by the secretary and be sent to the president for his signature.

DIRE DISTRESS.

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Connellsville Readers.
Distress is the kidney's cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to their aid means that primary troubles follow quickly. Dire distress, diabetes, Bright's disease, Profit by a sufferer's experience.

Miss R. E. Lee, 106 Washington street, Greensburg, Pa., says: "I consider Dr. Kidd's Kidney Pills to be a good kidney remedy and one that can be depended upon. I was troubled with my back and kidneys for a long time. There was a constant, nagging pain through the small of my back and my kidneys gave me much annoyance by the frequency of the secretions. Dr. Kidd's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I at length procured a box. In a short time they cured me, and I am happy to state that the cure has proven permanent. Dr. Kidd's Kidney Pills have my hearty endorsement."

Why a Check Is Safe.

A check is merely an order on the bank for money—The money is, of course, much safer in a good bank than in your pocket. A check may be lost, stolen, improperly paid—but there is no loss either to the person who drew the check or the person in whose favor it was drawn. It is the duty of the bank to pay it to the proper person or stand the loss.

It's easy to see that it is always safer to pay by check. Large or small, your account is cordially invited by

The second game in the Church
league was played last evening between the Methodist Episcopal and the Presbyterian, and the disciples of John Wesley won out. The clerical team put up a stiff game and made one more error than their opponents, but when the smoke of battle cleared away they were one run behind. Only five mistakes were played,
but that was sufficient, and when darkness fell like a pall over the field the spectators were glad enough
when the umpire called the game.
The final score was 8 to 7. There were three long hits, a pair for three runs and one for two. C. Post took the first prize for errors, making three in all, but Anderson, Clapper
and Bill Beckman pushed him close,
having two apiece.

Harold Post was the candy run
getter, crossing the pan three times.
The fourth inning showed the Presbyterians, as the Methodists made four runs in that session. The score.

$25 POSTAGE CURRENCY IS GREAT CURIOSITY

L. N. Kreinbrook of Mt. Pleasant
Owns Bill Issued During Lincoln's Time.

MT. PLEASANT, May 21.—L. N. Kreinbrook has in his possession a $25 postage currency bill issued by Abraham Lincoln during the Civil War, when money was scarce and as a last resort a small kind of postage currency was issued. The bill bears the date of July 17, 1862, and as these bills are very rare most of them have been called in.
He also has in his possession a Trade Dollar issued in 1875, which is also scarce. These contain 120 grains of silver each, the most silver ever used in the making of an article of the dollar. He also has a Half Dollar note in 1870 that shows very much of the original design and the edges are "50 cents" printed on it several times.
Among his curios he has a bullet picked up by Port Folio, a local hero who was wounded during the Spanish-American War in the field following the battle of La Guadalupe near San Diego, Cal., and was later found in a pocket when his dead body was sent to this place for burial.

HATCH TRAIN IN TOMORROW.

Carnival Will Unload During
the Afternoon From
B. & O. Tracks.

A SIGHT WELL WORTH SEEING

A sight well worth seeing is the Hatch Show train, which will pull into town, which will be the first of the season, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock. It will be worth one's time to walk down to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and see the different people alight from the show train. First of all is the Hatch's Royal Italian band of 15 pieces, then come 21 real Sioux in skins, 15 robes, three squaws, and three parrots. Next the performers of the different attractions, and then the working men start to unload the 16 cars of show paraphernalia.

Only two more days and then all the streets will lead to the carnival at the Shigo grounds. The Great Frank Hatch show, numbering 300 people and 19 cars, is the attraction which comes here to furnish the grand May Festival, which takes management for the Tenth Regiment place all next week, May 24 to 29. There will be something doing all the time as there are 11 shows, three free acts and Hatch's Royal Italian band in hand concerts both afternoon and night. When you visit the carnival don't fail to look in on the Indian village, where you will see real Indians in their native war dances and their Wild West plays and pantomimes. Next in interest is the Monitor and Northrup tent, where you see the reproduction of that great Civil war battle on water. This is not a moving picture, but real ships and real men and real water are used for this battle. Next on the list is White Gostell's White National Circus, where you see all the wild animals of the forest, trained to listen to the word of command from the leader in King Rob's Palace of Mystery is seen the Great Indian nation exposed, then Jumbo, the largest snake in the world, measured 29 feet in length and as large around as a man's body. Then there are the Mag-Thru Minstrels, Working World, Penny Arcade, Ocean Wave, Merry-Go-Round, Merry Wheel, Beautiful Supper, the Gilt Show and several other shows.

Hatch's Concert Band gives concerts afternoon and night. The feature of this night attraction is the free act, Doro Duff Valore who takes his life in his hands twice daily, descending a platform 120 feet in the air, and descending at the rate of a mile a minute, to the height of 67 feet on a bicycle, when the pedal drops into a net, and Valore turns two complete somersaults, and gives a trick containing but few feet of water head foremost, 60 feet away. This attraction is pronounced both by public and press as the most daring feat ever attempted by any living being. This act takes place twice daily at 1 P. M. and 10 P. M.

The BLACK BAG

By Louis Joseph Vance

Copyright, 1908, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

He swung round and without attempting to muffle his footsteps strode toward the companionway. He must pretend he had just come aboard.
Subconsciously he had been aware during his time of pondering that the voices in the cabin had been steadily gaining in volume, rising louder and just more loud, Mulready's ominous, drunk blurred accents dominating the others. There was a quarrel about the issue, while Calendar sought rationality to calm and soothe him.
The American arrived at the head of the companionway at a critical juncture.
As he moved to descend some-low, cool toned retort of Calendar's seemed to enrage his confederate beyond reason. He yelled aloud with wrath, sprang to his feet, lunging
over a chair and, leaping back toward the foot of the stairs, flashed an adroit
hand behind him and found his revolver.

"I've stood enough from you!" he screamed, his voice oddly clear in that moment of insanity. "You've played with me as long as you will, you hunking American hog! And now I'm going to show."

As he held his fire to permit his declaration to hit home Kirkwood, appeared to find himself standing on the threshold of a tragedy, gathered himself together and launched through the air, straight for the madman's shoulders.

As they went down together sprang Mulready's head struck against a transom, and the revolver fell from his limp fingers.

CHAPTER XXI.

PREPARED as he had been for the shock, Kirkwood was also pleased to find himself uninjured, Mulready's revolver in his grasp.

On his feet, straddling Mulready's insolent body, he confronted Calendar and Stryker. The face of the latter was a sickly green, the gift of his fright. The former seemed coldly composed, already recovering from his surprise and bringing his eyes to bear upon the new factor which had been so unceremoniously injected into the situation.

He was leaning heavily upon a hand that rested flat on the table. In this hand he held a revolver, which

Kirkwood was tingling with a sense of mastery.

he had apparently driven in self defense at the crisis of Mulready's frenzy. Its muzzle was deflected. He looked Kirkwood over with a cool
gray eye, the color gradually returning to his face, clean shaven cheeks, replacing the piteous pale which had momentarily rested thereon.

As for Kirkwood, he had covered
the fat adventurer before he knew it.
Stryker, who had been standing immediately in the rear of Calendar, immediately covered and cringed to find himself in the line of fire.

Of the three conscious men in the brigantine's cabin Calendar was probably the least confused or excited.
Stryker was palpably unmaimed.
Kirkwood was tingling with a sense of mastery, but collected and rapidly
reverting the combinations for the reversed conditions which had been brought about by Mulready's drunken folly. His elation was apparent in his shining gray eyes as well as in the bright color that glowed in his cheeks.
When he decided to speak, it was with rapid enunciation, but clearly and concisely.

"Very well," continued Kirkwood heavily. "You must know that I have personally nothing to fear from the police. If arrested I wouldn't be detained a day. On the other hand,
you—Hand me that pistol, Calendar."

but first, please. Look sharp, my man! If you don't!"

He left the pistols to be filled in by the corpulent blackguard's intelligence.
The latter, gray eyes still intent on the younger man's face, wavered, plainly impressed, but still wondering.
"Quick! I'm not patient tonight!"
No longer was Calendar at two minds. In the face of Kirkwood's attitude there was but one course to be followed—that of obedience. Calendar surrendered an untenable position as gracefully as could be wished.

"I guess you know what you mean
by this," he said, tossing the weapon
as per instructions. "I'm doggoned if I do. You'll allow a certain latitude in consideration of my relief. I can't say we were anticipating this—ah—heaven sent visitation."

Accepting the revolver with his left hand and settling his fore finger on the trigger, Kirkwood beamed with pure enjoyment. He found the deference of the older man, tempered though it was by his indomitable avenger, refreshing in the extreme.

"A little appreciation is exactly out of place, come to think of it," he commented, adding, with an eye for the captain, "Stryker, you hold bad battered, have you got a gun concealed about your udder person?"

"The captain should be dealing with conspirators, not with me. I'm managed to reply in a voice singularly lackluster in his wonted bluster."

"Say 'sir,'" suggested Kirkwood.
"No, Mr. Kirkwood, sir," amended Stryker eagerly.

"Now, come round here and let's have a look at you. Please stay where you are, Calendar. Why, captain, you are shivering from head to foot. Not ill are you, you say? Step over to the table there, Stryker, and turn out your pockets; turn 'em inside out and let's see what you carry in the way of offensive artillery. And, Stryker, don't be rash, don't do anything you'd be sorry for afterward."

"No fear of that!" laughed the captain, meekly shuffling toward the table and, in his anxiety to give no cause for unpleasantness, beginning to empty
his pockets on the way.

"Don't forget the 'sir,' Stryker. And, Stryker, if you happen to think of anything in the line of one of your merry
quips or jests, don't strain yourself holding in. Go it right off your chest and you'll feel better."

Kirkwood chuckled, in high conceit
with himself, watching Calendar out of the corner of his eye, but with his attention centered on the infinitely diverting spectacle afforded by Stryker,
whose precarious hands were tumbling hither and thither on the table towards to light the articles of which he had despoiled his erstwhile victim.

"Come, come, Stryker! Surely you can think of something witty. Surely you haven't exhausted the possibilities of that almanac joke! Couldn't you ring another variation on the lunatic subject? Don't hesitate out of consideration for me, captain. I'm joking, of course. Perhaps you're not tired."

Stryker turned upon him an expression of once ludicrous, piteous and baffled. "That's all, sir," he stammered, displaying his empty palms in token
of his absolute tractability.

"Good enough. Now right about face and—sir! Your back's prettier than your face, and, besides, I want to know whether your hip pockets are empty.
I've heard it's the habit of you gentlemen to pack guns in your clothes. Now?
That's all right then. Now root on the transom over there in the corner.
Stryker, and don't move. Don't let me hear a word from you. Understand?"

Submissively the captain retired to the indicated spot. Kirkwood turned to Calendar, of whose attitude however, he had not been for an instant unmindful.

"Won't you sit down, Mr. Calendar?"
he suggested pleasantly. "Forgive me
for keeping you waiting."

For his own part, as the adventurer dropped passively into his chair Kirkwood stepped over Mulready and advanced to the middle of the cabin, at the same time thrusting Calendar's revolver into his own coat pocket. The other, Mulready's, he raised significantly with both hands, while he stood temporarily quiet, surveying the dusky
face of the pink terror in the luridness.

A quaint grim smile played about the American's lips, a smile a little contemptuous more than a little in-securable. In its light, Calendar gave renewed and lost something of his assurance. His first shifted unobtrusively behind his back and his dark eyes wavered, evading Kirkwood's. A length
he seemed to find the suspense unendurable.

"Well," he demanded testily, "what do you want of me?"

"I was just wondering at you, Calendar. In the last few days you've given me enough cause to wonder, as you'll admit."

The adventurer picked up spirit, defended by Kirkwood's pacific tone. "I wonder at you, Mr. Kirkwood," he replied. "It was good of you to save my life, and—"

"I'm not so sure of that! Perhaps it had been more humane."

Calendar owned the touch with a very guineae. "If I'm hanged if I understand this high minded attitude of yours!" he concluded heatedly.

"Don't you?" Kirkwood's humor became less apparent, the smile sobering.
"You will," he told the man, adding abruptly, "Calendar, where's your daughter?"

The restless eyes sought the com-panionway.
"Dorothy," the man had spontaneously, without a tremor, "is with friends in England. Why? Did you want to see her?"

"I rather expected to."
"Well, I thought it best to leave her alone. I'm glad to hear she's in safe hands," commented Kirkwood.
The adventurer's glance analyzed his face. "Ah," he said slowly, "I see you followed me on Dorothy's account, Mr. Kirkwood?"

FEARED TOTAL LOSS OF HAIR

Scalp had been Scaly for Some Time
—After an Attack of Typhoid Fever his Hair Began to Fall Out
by the Handful—Now It is

THICKER THAN EVER THANKS TO CUTICURA

"About two years ago I was troubled with my head being scaly, like psoriasis,
but, however, I wash my head once a week with Cuticura. I never gave me any trouble such as itching or smarting and I never experienced any falling of the hair. But shortly after that I had an attack of typhoid fever
and was out of the hospital possibly two months when I first noticed the loss of hair, my scalp being itchy. I started to use a dandruff cure to no effect whatever.
I used a quinine preparation quite freely which did no good either. I was the effect of this fever or some scalp disease I don't know, but I had actually lost hope of saving my hair at
all. I could brush it off my coat by the handful. It got so bad that I didn't need to comb it any more—it fell out so fast. My brother, who had used the Cuticura Remedy with success, advised me to try them. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and nearly a box of Cuticura Ointment, the change was surprising. My scalp is now clear and healthy and could be and my hair thicker than ever, whereas six months ago I had my mind made up to be bald in a short time. I will have a photograph taken later and send you
one. William F. Stevie, 5512 Broadway, Pittsburg, Penn., May 7 and 21, '08."

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointments with Cuticura Ointment, assisted when necessary by Cuticure Resolvent (liquid or pills), afford instant relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning, scaly, crusty humor, eczema, itches, inflammations, irritations and chafings of infancy and childhood, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy and permanent cure,
in the majority of cases, when all other remedies fail.

"Partly—partly on my own. Let me put it to you fairly. When you forced yourself upon me, back there in London, you offered me some sort of employment. When I rejected it you used me to your advantage for the furtherance of your purposes, which I confess I don't understand and made me miss my steamship. Naturally when I found myself penniless and friendless in a strange country I thought again of your offer and tried to find
you to accept it."

The Cokers, following a day of idleness lost out to Clarksburg, Elmer Cannon, who joined the team the other day, was not in the best of form and was hit hard. The Drummers, for the first time this season, hit against the Cokers like they have against some other teams around the circuit and the result was a 6 to 3 victory for them.

Cannon retired in the third round, after Clarksburg had scored four runs. Silcox, who succeeded him, did well, but the Cokers were already beaten. They were blanked out the eighth inning when a batting rally netted three runs.

The Cokers played an almost errorless game, Chip Francis having the only miscue. It was his first error of the season. Calhoun failed to hit safely in his first game with the Cokers but he had a stolen base to his credit. Chip Francis was the only man to connect with more than one hit on the Cokers' side. The features of the game were home runs by Bailey and Gibbs. The score:

Assists and Errors.
Hurrah for Grafton!
Even if we do lose it is a satisfaction to know Fairmont also fell.

Grafton joins the charmed circle
and ranks with Connellville and Charleroi in the list of teams for teams which have walloped the Hunters.

We always did kind of hanker after these Grafton youngsters. Now the outfit is forgiven for walloping the Cokers a trio of times.

The Cokers still enjoy the proud distinction of being the only team in the league which has beaten Fairmont twice. Maybe today will see them three times winners, who can tell?

Chief Sweeney better send out a flag to protect his rear, Uniontown is urgently near.

Since nothing under way the Cok-ers haven't been below the 500 mark.
They are right on the figures today
and only victory over Fairmont can prevent the Indians from getting into the second division class.

Is Kid Hagan earning his money
these days of idleness. Just watch him some afternoon as he prepares appliances for the automobile contest. No member of the Cokers is working harder than he.

No occasion for hard feelings on the part of anyone as a result of the automobile selected for the contest.
The field was open to all and the Jackson people put up the best offer.

Charles Work, agent for the Cull-laid, had made an offer earlier in the season, but not to either President Brown or Director Straub, who are engineering the present scheme.
They did not know Mr. Work desired to enter the lists until the contract
had been made. The Jackson people, however, made a flattering offer
and back it with a good car.

Going to the game Monday? First appearance of the Champions here
this season and their initial clash with the Cokers. There will be some crowd.

McCloskey and his men deserve a warm reception in Connellville Monday. The Champions have not been appreciated at home and Connellville fans should treat them in a manner all clean and aggressive opponents deserve. Don't hammer the Uniontown team like the tin-horns of the County Seat have been doing.
They are footmen worthy of Chief Sweeney's steel and should be treated as such.

Not only will a large crowd attend
the game here Monday, providing the weather is favorable, but a big crowd
of fans will travel to Uniontown Tuesday. And if the Cokers should be so fortunate as to annex both contests the Connellville rooters might become so excited as to follow the team on its two-day journey to Charleroi.

Prospects for an even break on the present trip are not bright. Such a thing is impossible. To get away from West Virginia with four victories and three defeats the Cok-ers must win both today and Monday. This is expecting almost too much of the team, as good as it is.

Fans here appreciate a good ball team and while it is a new experience to have held second place for several days in succession, and berated as one of the best teams in the circuit, the town knows how to meet such unexpected exigencies. The Cokers sure look good.

George L. Moreland, the Pittsburg
baseball statistician, has turned out
the 1930 edition of his baseball handbook and presents a table. This is a book every fan should have as it offers not only an accurate and rapid method of computing averages, but is crisscrossed with other valuable baseball data.

Speaking of baseball booklets, the 1930 edition of Spaulding's National Association Guide is now out. T. H.
Morrane, the veteran Boston sporting writer, is its editor, and has done well. This is the handbook of the minor leagues and contains much valuable information.

George Gates celebrated his return from Syracuse by piling up several errors for Fairmont and hasn't done much better since. It was a foregone conclusion that Gates would fail to make good in the Salt City, so there is no tragedy for this from demonstration of "How to Boot" up his return.

It is no discredit to Gates that he failed to land, either, for George is a polished feller. His inability to hit consistently cost him the job in faster company. He was working for a job against Lew Carr, the finest fielding third baseman in minor league company. The trouble in Syracuse is that Lew can't hit, either.

Gates isn't the first man who has been turned away from the Salt City.
Several youngsters tried to land in the Star infield last season, including Clyde Wares, formerly with Zanesville in the old P. C. M. league.

Everson fans are said to be sore because Uniontown turned their man Watson down without a trial. Everson doesn't know how lucky Watson is. Nothing but mental acrobatics is worse than playing ball in Uniontown
for a steady occupation.

"Get the back and put tacks in the track of Raymond's Bunch" wails
The Morning Herald. Wonder Uniontown didn't do something when she had the chance. The Hunters took four out of four from the Champs.

A Sewing Machine Given Away FREE

THE WHITE IS KING

The supremacy of the White Sewing Machine over all other makes, has been clearly demonstrated by the fact, that even during the dull times we could not fill all orders. Months ago we began to enlarge our factory. The buildings are completed and several hundred additional men are employed. Our output now exceeds one machine per minute.

Now in order that we may keep the additional men regularly employed and further increase the sale of the WHITE, we make an unheard of proposition. We are giving away absolutely FREE one White Sewing Machine in each county, and in addition offer you a chance to buy a high grade machine for less money than you would spend for the "Cheap Mail Order Trash." Read the coupon below.

$10--Factory Coupon--$10

This coupon if mailed to or presented at our Local Office, which is located on Corner First and Main Streets, West Side, Connellsville, Pa., on or before June 15th, 1931, will entitle the holder to a discount of Ten Dollars ($10.00) from the regular price of any White Sewing Machine in stock, and is good either in a cash or Easy Monthly Payment purchase. When the Coupon is tendered at our office as part payment in the purchase of a machine our Local Agent will fill in a number and countersign the coupon. This will entitle you to a chance for a machine which will be drawn for on June 25th. The person holding the lucky number will be refunded all the money they paid on a machine and will be given a clear receipt for it. (J. W. Cole of Eighth street, was the person who got a White Machine absolutely free in May, 1930, at a drawing of this same nature. Ask him and verify our statement.) We will trade in your old machine and make you the same liberal allowance for it as we would if you come to buy a machine without the coupon.

A Hundred Connellsville Women Can Get a Suit for Nothing.

We're Going to Give Away a Hundred Bran New Tailored Suits Next Week.

WE'VE got a few over two hundred suits in our store---that's too many---we don't want them, and we made up our minds that the quickest way to reduce the stocks to normal would be to give some of them away, so we've decided that all during next week

With every Suit we sell next week,
we will give one Suit of equal value
absolutely FREE of all charge.

THERE are no strings to this offer. It includes every suit in the store. If you happen to choose a suit at $25.00 we will give you any other $25.00 suit in the store absolutely free. If you happen to know a friend who intends buying a suit, let her divide with you on the price of yours and select her own for nothing. Over two hundred tailored suits remaining demands extreme measures. The loss we will incur is the premium we must pay on clean stocks next season. This is an extreme measure---the most extreme you've ever read of. There isn't one single suit in the entire collection but that is stylish, new and up to our strict requirements of tailoring and absolute fit. We never show any but the newest of styles. You've never seen an old style suit in this store. We've always used radical means to effect a complete clearance. This is by far the most radical steps we have ever taken, but conditions demand it or we promise you we would never do it. The range of prices includes suits from $15.00 to $45.00, made in every wanted material and in the most wanted styles. Next week our suit distribution will be the greatest this store has ever known.
